LEVELS AND COMPETENCIES

The primary distinction between levels is reflected in the Level Descriptors. As levels increase, the scope, complexity, and degree of independence increase. Higher levels may perform duties of lower levels. Education and experience are stated at the minimum threshold for the level. Additional education or experience may be desirable for some positions.

Level 1

PCLS: 01201

Grade 74

Non-Exempt

Descriptors

Work is performed under direct supervision. Perform basic clerical support for an office through the performance of tasks; such as typing, filing, sorting mail, copying documents, and serving as a receptionist. This level is distinguished from higher levels by the immediate availability and closeness of supervision, routine and repetitive nature of tasks, and working under specific, clearly stated directions.

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

Knowledge of basic computer operations. Knowledge of basic phone skills and etiquette. Skilled in providing excellent customer service. Ability to operate and troubleshoot basic office equipment. Ability to communicate effectively. Ability to maintain confidentiality. Ability to follow directions given by supervisors or co-workers. Ability to file and track information.

Education and Experience

High School graduation and six months office/administrative experience, or an equivalent combination of training and experience.

Level 2

PCLS: 01202

Grade 75

Non-Exempt

Descriptors

Work is performed under general supervision. Perform a variety of office clerical assignments of average difficulty and/or defined clerical services in support of a specific regulatory, program, service, or organizational function. This is a fully proficient level, requiring knowledge and experience to perform various office assignments. May lead student or temporary employees. Positions in this level are distinguished from Level 1 by the performance of a wide variety of more complex* tasks, working more independently, and using initiative to carry out recurring assignments. This level is distinguished from higher levels in that positions perform tasks as assigned or as defined by established procedures, rather than determining the scope* of work to be accomplished, determining methods, and setting priorities.

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

Same as level one, plus: Knowledge of relational databases and the Banner system. Knowledge of computer programs of intermediate difficulty. Basic fiscal skills. Ability to use computer scheduling programs. Ability to multi-task and prioritize projects. Ability to establish and maintain files and recordkeeping systems. Ability to lead students and temporary staff.

Education and Experience

High School graduation and one year office/administrative experience, or an equivalent combination of training and experience.

Level 3

PCLS: 01203

Grade 76

Non-Exempt

Descriptors

Work is performed under intermittent supervision. May lead lower level staff and/or serve as an office facilitator in a more centralized office setting. In a lead role, assign and participate in clerical functions in order to ensure the smooth organization and work flow in an office. This level is distinguished from lower levels by the increased latitude in determining methods and setting priorities, rather than performing tasks as defined by established procedure and processes.

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

Same as level two, plus: Knowledge of advanced computer programs and operations. Knowledge of design and maintenance of web sites. Fiscal skills are at a level comparable to the fiscal responsibilities of a Fiscal Technician 2. Ability to lead employees. Ability to analyze situations and solve problems independently.

Education and Experience

High School graduation and two years office/administrative experience, or an equivalent combination of training and experience.

Level 4

PCLS: 01204

Alternate PCLS: 09010

Grade 77

Non-Exempt

Descriptors

Work is performed under administrative supervision. Perform specialized complex clerical work and/or a wide variety of clerical services requiring independence, judgment, and initiative in determining office needs, in prioritizing and organizing work, and in determining the appropriate action to be taken. May supervise office support staff and/or may coordinate large/specialized projects or events. May serve as the office manager for a department. This is the advanced level which is distinguished by its significant latitude to determine methods of performing the work, using judgment, and setting priorities for a wide variety of clerical processes.

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

Same as level three, plus: Knowledge of basic contracts and ability to negotiate these basic contracts. In depth budget and fiscal skills. Advanced internet research skills. Ability to supervise and set priorities for staff. Ability to coordinate events. Ability to perform well under pressure. Ability to create reports for management using data gathered from various sources.

Education and Experience

High School graduation and three years progressively responsible office/administrative experience, or an equivalent combination of training and experience.

- * Complexity: Refers to the interpretation of and diversity of University policies, procedures and regulations. Complexity increases as the application, interpretation and frequency of working with these policies, procedures and regulations increases. Complex positions decide the best course of action when completing tasks. Complexity also increases as more diverse positions are supervised and more discretion is required to complete tasks.
- * Scope: Refers to the impact of decisions a position has on the unit/department.
-  Lead: Provide day-to-day guidance, training and direction for staff in addition to other duties. Regularly assign and review work. Fluent in assigned area of responsibility.
-  Supervise: Hire, train, evaluate performance, and initiate corrective action.
-  Exemption status determined on a case-by-case basis. Essential functions of each job will be reviewed and evaluated in accordance with Fair Labor Standards Act regulations.
