

ALASKA MARINE HIGHWAY SYSTEM

CAREER PATHWAYS GUIDEBOOK

Our Mission:

The Alaska Marine Highway System (AMHS) is dedicated to providing safe, reliable, and efficient marine transportation services that connect Alaskan communities, foster economic growth, and support the unique way of life in the Last Frontier. Our mission is to serve as a vital lifeline, linking coastal and remote communities and providing access to essential services, goods, and opportunities. We are committed to environmental stewardship, ensuring our operations are sustainable and respectful of Alaska's pristine natural environment. Through innovation, collaboration, and a deep-seated dedication to service, we strive to be a cornerstone of Alaska's transportation infrastructure, enhancing the quality of life for all who call this great state home. Join us in our mission to connect, sustain, and inspire Alaska.

Our Goals:

1. Support public transportation systems' maintenance, development, and enhancement, including implementing a systematic fleet replacement approach
2. Coordinate programs and services to optimize fund utilization and service delivery efficiency
3. Foster a federal-state-local partnership to enhance local support for transit systems and maintain a stable funding base
4. Ensure transit investment decisions align with policy directions, customer feedback, available resources, system performance, and funding levels
5. Cultivate positive relationships with Alaska DOT&PF customers by prioritizing communication and responsiveness

The working environment you can expect:

As an employee at AMHS headquarters in Ketchikan, Alaska, you will be part of a dynamic and close-knit team dedicated to serving the diverse transportation needs of Alaskans. Nestled in the picturesque surroundings of Ketchikan, you will experience a unique working environment that combines the rugged beauty of Alaska with the warmth of a supportive community. Our headquarters offer a collaborative and inclusive workplace where your contributions are valued, and your ideas are heard. You will have the opportunity to work alongside experienced professionals in the transportation industry, gaining valuable insights and expertise. Additionally, Ketchikan's rich cultural heritage and vibrant arts scene provide a stimulating backdrop for both work and leisure, offering a truly enriching experience for those who join our team.

The benefits of joining our team:

The State of Alaska has a generous benefits package and an excellent retirement plan. Please see here for more information: <https://doa.alaska.gov/dop/workplace/benefits/>

The DOT&PF core values are Integrity, Excellence, Respect, and Safety. We support an environment focused on teamwork and collaboration to achieve results. We find success in achieving our transportation mission through building credibility with our customers, stakeholders, and the public. A successful candidate will have sound judgment and decision-making and a history of strong ethical and professional conduct.

The working environment you can expect:

Southeast Alaska is a land of snow-capped mountains, the Pacific Ocean, and the largest national forest in the United States (Tongass). Old-growth trees in a temperate rain forest create clean air and clean water, as well as many opportunities for adventure. The local trails offer endless choices for getting into the woods or climbing mountains.

Local waters provide some of the best seafood in the world: salmon, halibut, shrimp, and crab. Water-lovers enjoy ocean boating, diving, paddle boarding, and even surfing. There are rivers for white-water rafting and lakes, ocean and rivers for fishing. Locals and visitors avail themselves of the many cabins and camping options in and around Juneau. Winter brings a host of Nordic and back country skiing possibilities.

Southeast Alaska has an amazing array of cultural opportunities. Folk Festivals, Jazz and Classics, and Symphony bring a variety of world-class music every year. There are museums, professional theaters, and many art galleries. All of these things contribute to a quality of life that is highly prized by those who live in Southeast Alaska.

Welcome to the Alaska Marine Highway System (AMHS) Passenger Services Department, where we focus on providing an exceptional travel experience for our passengers.
