

It's easy to join your Staples program.

Good news! The University of Alaska is now a part of the State of Alaska NASPO purchasing agreement. This means deeply discounted negotiated pricing on thousands of items you and your department use every day.

But some things haven't changed:

- Same account number, login and password – no changes
- Regionally-based account management and a dedicated support team
- Easy online ordering and returns
- Free next day delivery*

Check out your new pricing on StaplesAdvantage.com today!
