

Ketchikan faculty and staff offer friendly, personalized attention to students who will find familiarity, inclusiveness, and top value for their education dollars.

The Ketchikan campus was originally established as Ketchikan Community College in 1954. In cooperation with the larger University of Alaska system through distance education, students can graduate locally with bachelor and master degrees. Business and industry programs are delivered, as well as a core of technical, maritime studies, and other vocational courses.

HELPING STUDENTS REACH THEIR GOALS

1,255 Students took at least one for-credit course

265 Students took at least one non-credit course

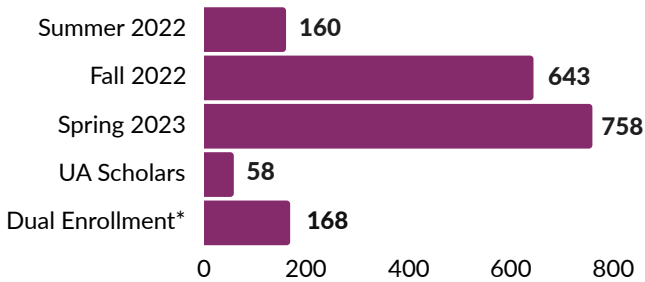

A year after graduating, UAS Ketchikan program graduates (FY17 - FY21) were earning an average of $31,182 annually, about 9 percent ($2,582) more than they did one year before earning the certificate or degree. Program graduates (FY13 - FY17) working for 5 years were making 73 percent ($22,724) higher wages on average than graduates who had only been working one year, showing that the earnings boost from a UAS Ketchikan credential increases over time.

One Year before Graduation	One Year after Graduation	Five Years after Graduation	Salary Increase (One Year to Five)	% Increase (One Year to Five)
$28,600	$31,182	$53,906	$22,724	73%

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Qualified Member of the Engine Department

The UAS Ketchikan Qualified Member of the Engine Department (QMED) course of study is a US Coast Guard approved sequence of courses. Earning this credential has significant advantages for those seeking entry into the Maritime field enabling them to secure employment in engine rooms on large maritime vessels. Successful completion of the QMED reduces the required sea service from 180 days to 120. The Maritime Training Center also offers 17 above deck US Coast Guard approved courses leading to Occupational Endorsements and Associate of Applied Science degrees.
